Brookville, First District GOP Chairman, held an abbreviated First District Meeting.

Present from the Phillips County Republican Central Committee were: Janene Schneider, Logan, vice-chairman, who served as the master of ceremonies; Linda McDowell, Agra, treasurer and Kari Moore, Phillipsburg, secretary. Denis Miller, Phillipsburg, chairman, was unable to be present. Lynn Clements, Logan, the immediate past chairman, was present.

Other dignitaries present were: Bob Quanz, Glade, Phillips County commissioner and wife, Shirley; John Miller, Norton, Norton County commissioner; Deena Horst, Salina, a State Representative and Steve Berry, Lenora, Chairman of the Norton County Republican Central Committee.

Melvin Schooler, a military veteran from Logan, led everyone in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance and Kari Moore gave the invocation.

Judy Schneider and Staci Hartman, both of Logan, entertained with a patriotic song, "In God We Trust".

The evening program concluded with the same duet leading the crowd in the singing of the Kansas song, "Home on the Range".

Jim Barnett

State Senator Barnett is a graduate of Emporia State University and received his Doctor of Medicine degree from the University of Kansas School of Medicine. He and his wife, Yvonne, reside in Emporia and have two children, Chelsea and Blake.

"We're spending too much at the federal level and need conservative leadership," said Barnett. "I think America is waking up. We need help in meeting energy needs without depending on foreign countries. The current health care bill will hurt seniors; it is irresponsible."

Sue Boldra

Sue Boldra grew up on a farm in McPherson County and is now the owner of the family farm. She was an educator for over 35 years and believes energy security is one of the toughest challenges facing wife, Audrey.

"I was Congressman Moran's first intern in Washington and I learned that fiscal responsibility is most important," said Mann.

"I will focus an two major issues: economic growth and farm policy."

Monte Shadwick

Monte Shadwick was born in Great Bend but has lived in Salina most of his life. His father, Gerald Shadwick, was chief of staff for U.S. Senator Frank Carlson. Monte served on the Salina City Commission for eight years including two terms as mayor.

During one three and one-half year period, he was on Congressman Moran's district constituent staff in Salina. He has taught middle-school, coached high school basketball, been a securities broker and financial advisor and has been a small business owner and operated a restaurant.

"I really learned the important issues when I was working with Congressman Moran," said Shadwick. "I saw how out of touch Congress is with Western Kansas. Congress is getting more and more urban. We have too much government."

Rob Wasinger

Rob Wasinger is a fourth generation Kansan. He believes Kansas has the best farmers and ranchers anywhere and is proud of our heritage as a farm state.

He worked for Senator Brownback for the past 12 years and recently moved back to Kansas. He has also been a staffer for Governor Bill Graves and Kansas Senate Majority Leader Jerry Moran.

"I have covered all 69 counties in the Big First District since announcing my candidacy," said Wasinger.

"It concerns me that President Obama plans to tax and spend and the strength of our national defense is a major issue."

Chris Kobach

Chris Kobach is troubled by the increase in voter fraud. To fight it, he believes we need the following requirements for voters: a photo identification, proof of citizenship and prosecution of voter fraud.

"I want to make these changes," he said.

and our grain prices are hurting," said Ostmeyer. "But, we'll get through it.

"Goodland Vo Tech could be hurt by budget cuts and that would be bad.

"We finally got the coal-fired power plant that we need but, unfortunately, we'll have to go through 18 months of hearings before final approval. It should have been built the first time around.

"I'm hoping that the economy will turn around in the near future.

"Thanks to everyone for your support."

Bob Tomlinson

Tomlinson told the crowd that Sandy Praeger has two major concerns. He said she opposes the health care plan being proposed because the public option would cut reimbursement rates to the point hospitals would close and doctors would leave.

Second, she says the Democratic controlled Congress wants to nationalize insurance companies.

Jerry Moran

Doyle Rahjes, Agra, former president of the Kansas Farm Bureau, introduced Congressman Moran.

"Jerry doesn't seek notoriety; he just does his job," said Rahjes.

"He is consistent in the way he presents the case for the people of Kansas. He doesn't preach to you; he carries the message for Kansans to Washington. He is totally committed to the people of Kansas and thoroughly understands the challenges to our core values."

"Things developing in Washington, D.C. are not good for Kansas or the nation," Moran told the large crowd.

"People in America desired a change and change we've had. The change moves us in the wrong direction. We are spending and borrowing so much money that it has consequences for future generations.

"I'm one of 17 Republicans who have voted against every bailout.

"Such things as cash for clunkers and cap and trade are the worst I've seen. Increasing energy costs is not the answer.

"Everyone will be affected by
